13 Reality Check

Consider these questions before making a final commitment to a career decision.

1. Is this a career you are really interested in pursuing? Why?
2. Will the career provide adequate income to satisfy your monetary desires?
3. Will the career provide adequate job opportunities in an area of the country/world in which you want to live?
4. Can you discipline yourself for the number of years of required study in order to achieve your career goal?
5. Will you be able to maintain the GPA required if transferring?
6. Will you be able to earn the required scores on standardized tests which might be required for transferring to certain degree programs?
7. Will this career choice provide you with adequate opportunities for career growth?
8. Will this career path require you to compromise your value system?
9. Will this career choice allow you to have the personal life you value?
10. Can you see yourself working in this field for the next 20 to 30 years?
